

Abstract

Demonstration is an act of expressing an opinion in public, in the form of criticism of a decision or policy. The government has issued rules on freedom of expression, such as Law No. 9 of 1998 on KMPMU. The formulation of article 16 contained the term illegal acts that are open to multiple interpretations. Of course, this formulation can be used by people who can legalize or criminalize a person's actions. It becomes interesting to investigate what is the meaning of the act of breaking the law and how a good formulation. The research method used is a normative study. The approach to the problem using the approach of legislation and conceptual approaches. The results of this study, interpretation of the term is no longer against the law to violate the laws but can violate an unwritten law. Then needed a renewal policy formulation in the law with respect to the principles of the Act P3 that can create legal certainty. And in this study in view of the formulation of the well is: "Participants in the implementation of the delivery of public opinion to take action" unlawfully or cause casualties and or loss ", may be subject to legal sanctions in accordance with the provisions of the legislation in force". Or "participant in managing the delivery of public opinion yangg acts violate" the law ", the law can be penalized in accordance with the legislation in force".

Keywords : Evaluation, Unlawful Deeds, Freedom of Expression in Public.