ABSTRACT

This study aims to: (1) determine the validity of Scrapbook Media based on Sumenep local wisdom, (2) determine the effectiveness of Scrapbook Media based on Sumenep local wisdom, and (3) determine the attractiveness of Scrapbook Media based on Sumenep local wisdom. This study employs a Research and Development (RnD) approach, utilizing the ADDIE model, which consists of five stages: analysis, design, development, implementation, and evaluation. Expert assessments revealed an average validity percentage of 90% for the Scrapbook Media, categorizing it as highly valid. The effectiveness of the Scrapbook Media was evaluated through observations of teacher and student activities, yielding a classical student learning completion rate of 100%. Specifically, teacher activity observations scored 95% in large groups and 85% in small groups, while student activity observations scored 86% in large groups and 85% in small groups. The attractiveness of the Scrapbook Media was assessed through questionnaire responses, with teachers scoring it 100% in both large and small groups, and students scoring it 92% in small groups and 90% in large groups, categorizing it as very interesting. Based on these findings, the Scrapbook Media based on Sumenep local wisdom is deemed suitable for use in teaching Pancasila Education to fourth-grade students at Elementary School Babbalan Sumenep Unit 3, specifically for the topic of recognizing and exploring cultural diversity in the surrounding environment, with categories of highly valid, effective, and very interesting.
