

ABTRACT

Marriage is the most important and very basic thing according to applicable regulations and religious law. The purpose of marriage is regulated in Article 3 of the Compilation of Islamic Law (KHI). To realize a household life that is sakinah, mawaddah, and rahmah. In today's era of progress, there are many new problems that hit households. As happened in Bangkalan, divorce cases are high every year. In 2021 there were 306 divorce cases and in 2022 there were 356 divorce cases. The causes of divorce are economic factors and domestic violence. It is interesting to discuss what factors cause the high rate of divorce at the request of the wife (khuluk) and how efforts are made to prevent the high rate of divorce that occurs in bangkalan district.

This research uses Empirical legal research methods, field research or field research. Using a statutory approach and a factual approach based on primary legal materials, secondary legal materials, and tertiary legal materials.

The results of this study show that the factors that cause the high rate of divorce at the request of the wife (Khuluk) include economic factors, domestic violence factors, dispute factors, infidelity factors, internal and external factors, and death factors. Efforts made to prevent the high rate of divorce in Bangkalan Regency use preventive policies, namely early prevention by conducting education and socialization of sakinah families, organizing premarital and postmarital courses, and providing religious knowledge and values. In addition, in suppressing cases of violence that occur within the scope of domestic violence (KDRT) by conducting socialization about domestic violence. So as to create a harmonious family (sakinah, mawaddah, and warahmah).

Keywords: Divorce, Domestic Violence