

ABSTRACT

Anjar Siti Robiah. 13.05.111.00111. A study of Illocutionary Acts in Donald Trump's Speech. Thesis. English Study Program of Faculty of Social and Culture Sciences, University of Trunojoyo Madura. Advisor: Dr. Masduki, M.Pd

This study focuses on the types and functions of illocutionary act expressed by Donald Trump in his campaign speech by the title "Donald Trump's Speech in Manchester, New Hampshire on November 7, 2016." This study is conducted by the writer to explain the types and functions of illocutionary acts found from Donald Trump's utterance in his speech campaign.

The writer uses theory proposed by Searle (1976) and Leech (1983) to analyze the data. The source of data was accessed on January, 6th 2017. The researcher herself is used as research instrument in this study. The writer also uses content analysis method as method of data collection and interactive model of data analysis to analyze the data.

After classifying and analyzing the data, the writer found 50 data in the finding. The writer found five types of illocutionary acts, they are 17 data of assertive, 6 data of directive, 16 data of commissive, 9 data of expressive, and 2 data of declarative. In addition, the writer also found four functions of illocutionary act, they are 6 data of competitive, 6 data of convivial, 29 data of collaborative and 9 data of conflictive. It can be concluded that the speaker uses all types and functions of illocutionary acts in his utterance from his campaign speech.

Keywords: Illocutionary, Acts, Donald Trump, Speech.