

ABSTRACT

Arifah. Nurul. 150511100108. Jung's Archetypal in Dear John Novel by Nicholas Sparks. Thesis. English Study Program. Faculty of Social and Cultural Sciences. University of Trunojoyo Madura. Advisor: Zakiyatul Mufidah, S.Hum., M.Hum.

An Archetypal analysis of John Tyree as the major character on Dear John Novel by Nicholas Sparks shows there are many collections of repetitive life experiences which influence him. The study aims to describe the archetypes elements of John's personality which appear in the story.

Archetypal theory from Carl Gustav Jung uses in this study. It discusses six types of archetype such as Persona, Shadow, Anima, Wise Old man, Self, and Hero which has differentiated between one another. The study focused on how the archetypes elements of John's personality which appear in the story. The qualitative research methodology uses in this study. The source of data was a novel entitled Dear John by Nicholas Sparks and the data are the characters' utterances and the writer's description in the novel. The writer analyzed the data by reading thoroughly to get a general understanding. Second, the novel is being reread to find out the problems of the main character and the other character which relate to the main problem. Third, to collect the data easily, the writer highlights the data related to the research questions.

The results show on the findings of the archetype element in John personality and it gives big influence to his emotion and action in the story. At last discussion is about how the archetypes elements of John's personality which describe in the story.

Keywords: Archetypal theory, personality, experiences, jung,